Fuel truck driver OK; truck isn't

By Jack C. Ventimiglia

GRANITE CITY — A truck loaded with jet fuel slid on its side on Illinois 3, then ignited into a wall of fire and smoke at the Rock Road intersection Wednesday.

The driver, Michael E. Dawson, 36, of East St. Louis, crawled safely from the cab and escaped injury. State police reported Dawson was driving south at 12:25 p.m. when a truck driven by Clifford G. Michael, 73, of Highland, drove onto Illinois 3, blocking the southbound lanes.

Dawson swerved to avoid the accident. He said he feared hitting the truck would cause his load of jet fuel to explode.

"Next thing I knew I was sideways, sliding on the pavement," Dawson said. "And then the windshield came out and the dirt came in. I felt this heat on my back and then I crawled right through the windshield and started running up the hill. I thought I was on fire because it was so hot."

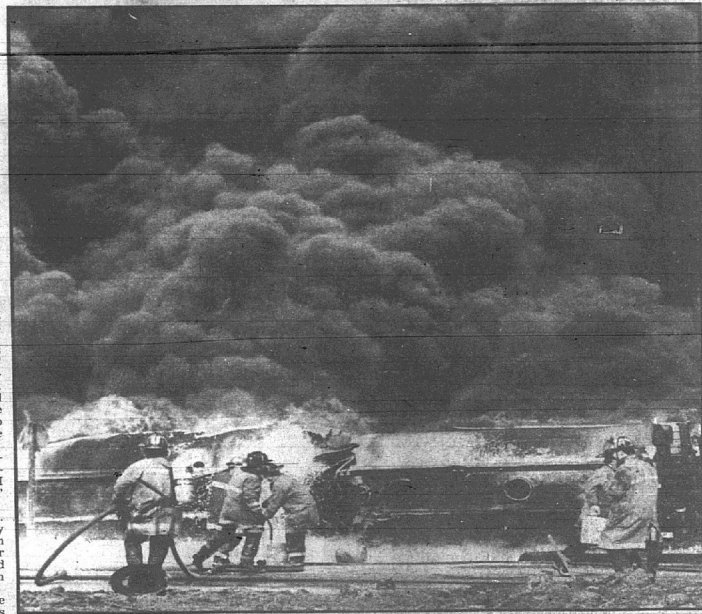

BEING IN THE CAB of the burning truck was "like being in the bottom of a tunnel with a light ahead. I saw the light and I went that way," Dawson said.

Fire departments from the St. Louis Area Support Center (Army Depot), Granite City Steel, Madison and Granite City battled the fire for more than an hour as a small crowd gathered. A combination of foam and water extinguished the blaze.

Due to the burning fuel's explosive nature, Prather Grade School was evacuated and everything within 2,000 feet of the truck was in potential danger, according to the U.S. Department of Transportation's Materials Transportation Bureau.

FIREFIGHTERS and onlookers scrambled for cover as a small explosion occurred.

City considered for shopping center

By Bill Bagby

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Plans to locate a shopping center downtown were discussed by city and business leaders Tuesday.

"We've been talking about the rehabilitation of our central business district for 20 years," Mayor Von Dee Cruse said. "This is the farthest we've ever gotten."

Jack Piper, vice president of Development Control Corp., met at City Hall in a closed session with about 25 civic and business leaders to discuss plans for a proposed shopping center. The center would reach up to 200,000-square feet and be built between 18th and 19th streets, said Alan Ortals, city economic development director.

A WRITTEN proposal for the project was submitted Piper, Ortals said before the meeting. The proposal includes what his company would pay to buy land in the development area, he said.

After the meeting, Piper said the shopping center could recapture some retail sales being lost to St. Louis and other areas. Residents shop elsewhere in a "retailing environment they

"I'm very excited about the whole thing. I'm sure it's going to work this time."

Ordinance on solid ground

GRANITE CITY — The controversial occupancy permit ordinance is constitutional, said Charlie Douglas, assistant city attorney.

"I still feel like it's constitutional written exactly the way it is," Douglas said Friday.

Permit opponents at the City Council meeting Jan. 6 heard Lawrence Tallana, an attorney representing area realtors, provide court decisions indicating the ordinance would violate Fourth Amendment rights.

The ordinance does not state a search warrant is needed to inspect housing, Douglas said, and he's not sure it has to be stated in the ordinance.

It could be added, he said.

"If that'll take care of it, then fine, we'll do that," he said.

When the city shows a change in occupancy, getting a warrant would be easy, he said.

The public may be misinformed on the constitutionality issue, Douglas said.

After further research on the ordinance, results will be given to the council, he said, and it can decide to pass or fail the ordinance.

We're not attractive but

Japanese may have yen for Granite City

By Dave Gosnell

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Potential industrial developers from Japan had negative impressions of the city, said translator Sumico Yamana.

Yamana, a Granite City resident who accompanied 15 Japanese manufacturers who toured the city in November, said one manufacturer told her Granite City "looked like Pittsburgh."

"It didn't sound good. I don't think it was a good impression," Yamana said.

Another, while touring Granite City Steel, made a similar comment.

"When he came over to talk to a Japanese businessman at Granite City Steel," he was talking like it was dirty. It (appearance) is one of the major concerns to them," Yamana said.

The manufacturers were looking for sites to build auto manufacturing plants. Granite City is considered a good location for auto parts manufacturing because of its industrial base and location.

Now is the time for Granite City to attract Japanese business, said Yamana, because the exchange rate for the Japanese currency is low compared to the dollar. The rate makes U.S. investment appealing to the Japanese.

Deal International, a currency exchange company in New York, reported Wednesday the dollar "was very weak," against the yen. Despite intervention from the Bank of Japan,

Sumico Yamana

"I don't think it was a good impression."

the dollar fell to a four-year low, closing at 156 yen Tuesday.

A cheap dollar makes Japanese investment in the U.S. more attractive, said Donald Westerfield, an associate professor of economics management at Webster University in St. Louis.

"It means that the yen would be coming to the U.S.," Westerfield said. He said Japanese auto manufacturers, including auto parts manufacturing, would be more likely to build plants in the U.S. because parts would be cheaper to make here than in Japan.

Westerfield predicted the low dollar would last at least through the first two quarters of 1987.

After that, "it could turn around pretty fast," he said.

"One hundred and seventy Japanese companies built in the U.S. last year. There is going to be more. They don't know where to go," Yamana said.

The opportunity to attract Japanese companies will not last long, Yamana said.

"I don't think it's going to last too long. We have to grab it when we can," she said. "A lot of other towns are ready to accept Japanese companies."

With the presence of Nippon Kokan, a Japanese steel manufacturer who owns 50 percent of Granite City Steel, Granite City has a unique opportunity to attract other Japanese industry, said Yamana.

"It can happen. I hope so. There are a lot of good reasons why it can happen," she said.

Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse said he too wants more Japanese industry in Granite City and would go to Japan if it would help.

"I'd go tomorrow if I thought we could locate a manufacturing plant in the city," Cruse said.

Cruse said he is aware the city's appearance could be a problem.

"Sure, we know we have some things to do. We have a problem. But we are working our fanny off on it. I talk about it every day," Cruse said.

As an example of what is being done, Cruse said his proposed occupancy permit ordinance would eventually improve property in the city.

"It's not going to happen overnight. We've got to make the general public aware of their own property," Cruse said.

R.C. Bush, Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce executive vice president, said much has been done recently about the city's appearance.

"This is a concern but... I think they have done a great job in the last 18 months," Bush said, referring to the city's industrial companies' clean-up efforts.

Several industries, including Granite City Steel, A.O. Smith Corp. and Air Products Services, have installed screened fences, landscaped, demolished old buildings and rehabilitated others on portions of their land in recent months, he said.

Bush said giving the city a "facelift," will take time.

"It may be three or five years before you notice a major facelift. If everyone else would pitch in... I think

Granite City could adopt Japanese sister — Fukuyama

By Dave Gosnell

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Mayor Von Dee Cruse said he hopes to have a special guest at this spring's homecoming festivities, the mayor of Fukuyama, Japan.

He wants to invite the mayor because, like Granite City, Fukuyama is home to a steel plant owned by Nippon Kokan. The Japanese company partially owns Granite City Steel.

"I think being associated with a city in Japan would have to be a plus" for bringing Japanese industry to Granite City, Cruse said.

He cited the building of a Mitsubishi auto manufacturing plant in Bloomington as an example of how cultural exchanges can help bring industry.

"They (Mitsubishi) went there because it (Bloomington) has been teaching Japanese in their schools

"I think being associated with a city in Japan would be a big plus!"

Mayor Von Dee Cruse

and had a sister city," Cruse said. The importance of a cultural exchange with a Japanese city to potential manufacturing development in Granite City was stressed by Sumico Yamana, of Granite City.

Yamana, who moved to the area from Japan 10 years ago and recently served as a translator for a tour by 15 Japanese industrial representatives, said a sister city program leads to awareness among Japanese business circles of a particular U.S. city.

Now is the time for Granite City to get involved with such programs, said Yamana, because the exchange rate for the Japanese yen is low compared to the dollar. The rate makes U.S. investment appealing to the Japanese.

Yamana said a public information campaign could help dispel old and negative attitudes about her native country. She said when a negative attitude about Japan is noticed, it hurts the possibility of businesses locating here.

"They have to change directions and introduce Japan and Japanese culture. Attitude is important. Cultures should be exchanged. When Granite City residents know more about Japan, they wouldn't have much of a problem," she said.

"Japanese people know more about the states than people here think."

R.C. Bush, executive vice president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, is looking

"It would involve the entire community."

R.C. Bush

into the possibility of Granite City becoming a sister city with Fukuyama or a community in another country other than Japan.

"We've been doing a little research on this. It would involve the entire community," Bush said.

Sister Cities International is a nonprofit international organization which promotes better understanding among people of different cultures through cultural exchanges. There are 750 U.S. cities with sister cities in other countries. St. Louis has a sister city in Japan called Suwa. St. Louis Mayor Vincent Schoemehl visited Suwa last fall.

"There are at least two possible linkages with cities in Japan. They (the sister city organization or the towns) have not been approached," Bush said. He said having a sister city with a community in Japan will not guarantee economic growth in Granite City.

"If you are looking for direct results for economic purposes, you would also need to support the chamber's efforts."

Bush said the Chamber of Commerce would be a catalyst if the city wanted to become involved in the program, but other city institutions, such as the school system and clubs, would also need to support the chamber's efforts.

"We don't want to get the cart before the horse. It's something that has to be sold to the public," he said.

Q. With the low interest rates I don't seem to be getting much out of my CDs. Are there any better alternatives that are within reason?

A. Not really. With interest rates declining in all investments; including Treasury notes, etc., CDs offer a pretty good deal. The only way to currently obtain interest rates of 9 to 10 percent is to make long-term commitments to corporate bonds and many of those are yielding under 9 percent. Short maturities of around five years are yielding under 8 percent. Granted, this is more difficult for those who are dependent on interest income but unfortunately the high interest rate of 12 percent we saw in recent years was the exception, not the norm. If you took a survey of interest rates over several decades, you'd realize current interest rates are still high and CDs are still a very good investment.

Teacher-parent talks in Madison Jan. 28

Madison Community Unit District 12 will have its annual parent-teacher conference day on Wednesday, Jan. 28.

All parents of students attending classes in the Madison schools are being requested to obtain appointments during regular school hours. Students will not be in attendance on the conference day. Appointment forms will be sent to all parents.

During the conferences, parents will have the opportunity to check their children's progress, see work samples, and become acquainted with the educational methods, curricula and evaluation system. Assessment can be made of each child's progress in relation to his or her ability and potential. Parents will be provided with suggestions as to how they might do to help their children succeed.

Appointments also can be made with special education teachers. The Madison school district is encouraging parents to be prompt in keeping their appointments, to utilize the full time and to avoid making others wait.

State tax forms offered in county

State Income Tax and Circuit Breaker forms will be available this year in the office of Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

The clerk's office is making the forms — the IL-190 individual income tax return and the IL-1363 Circuit Breaker Tax Relief claim — available as a public service to county residents.

Other state income tax forms and schedules can be obtained by writing the Illinois Department of Revenue, Box 10010, Springfield, Ill. 62794-0010 and specifying the forms needed.

Taxpayers can also use the department's toll-free line (1-800-732-3866) to get answers to their state tax questions or to request forms.

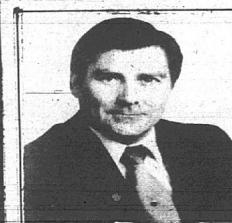

State revenue officials expect 4.7 million Illinoisans to file state income tax returns this year. The deadline for filing is midnight April 15.

Senior and disabled citizens have until Dec. 31, 1987, to submit their Circuit Breaker claim forms to the state in order to receive property tax and additional tax relief.

Circuit Breaker tax relief is available to persons 65 or over with household incomes up to $14,000 or to disabled persons.

The program now includes pharmaceutical assistance for Circuit Breaker claimants who use prescription heart medications, arthritis or diabetic medications.

Under the program, eligible persons can receive an identification card which entitles them to prescription medication for any of these three medical problems for one full year at no additional cost.

Sgt. Allen is well known by area truckers as well as the troopers he worked with for his ability to spot an overweight truck "a mile away" and tell its weight within a few hundred pounds. He was seldom wrong, associates recalled.

In 1974, Allen received the American Red Cross Life Saving Award for saving the life of a man who was bleeding to death. The officer noticed a car driving around and around in circles in a snow-covered field near Granite City. The car apparently did not have a driver.

Director of information services appointed at Granite City Steel

William D. Swanson, vice president and general manager of the Granite City Division of National Steel Corp., has announced the appointment of Jeffrey S. Jolly to the position of director, Information Services.

Jolly is experienced in computer applications for office automation, financial, manufacturing, sales, engineering and distribution systems.

His most recent position was director, Information Systems, for the H.H. Robertson corporate offices in Pittsburgh. Prior to that, he held positions of manager, data processing, manager, systems development, and manager, information systems, with H.H. Robertson.

Jolly received a bachelor of science degree in business from SIUE and a master of business administration degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

Prior to moving to Pittsburgh in 1978, Jolly lived in Granite City and

Sgt. Allen, truck weight expert, retires from Illinois state police

Sgt. Edward R. Allen, Granite City, has retired from the Illinois State Police after more than 29 years of service. The effective date was Dec. 31.

Allen was appointed to the State Police in July 1957. Upon graduation from the State Police Academy, he was assigned to District 11, then at French Village and now at Collinsville. He worked as a road trooper.

In 1979, he was appointed state supervisor in charge of all state truck weighing scales in District 11, a position he held until he retired. He was promoted to the rank of sergeant in 1981.

"Eddie" is well known by area truckers as well as the troopers he worked with for his ability to spot an overweight truck "a mile away" and tell its weight within a few hundred pounds. He was seldom wrong, associates recalled.

In 1974, Allen received the American Red Cross Life Saving Award for saving the life of a man who was bleeding to death. The officer noticed a car driving around and around in circles in a snow-covered field near Granite City. The car apparently did not have a driver.

Allen served two years in the U.S. Army as a sergeant, with time spent in Germany.

He is a member of the American Legion, Illinois Police Association and Troopers Lodge 41 of the Fraternal Order of Police.

Allen has two sons, James and William, and one daughter, Christine.

Also retiring Dec. 31 were Master Trooper James V. "Corky" Cullen, Edwardsville, and Master Trooper Harold "Joe" Hudack, Belleville. Both became state police officers in December 1987.

While in the Tactical Auto Theft Unit, Hudack participated in a year-long "citing" operation that recovered 31 stolen vehicles and led to the arrest of 50 persons.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

The Dram Shop Act provides that "an action shall lie for injuries to means of support caused by an intoxicated person." Therefore, if an intoxicated person causes injury to a wage earner, the dependents of the worker can bring a Dram Shop claim against the establishment which served the intoxicating liquor.

Frequently the question arises as to what is loss of means of support. Obviously, if the injured party was a laborer who provided wages to support himself and his family, his injury by an intoxicated person would constitute loss of means of support. What if the injury was to an unemployed mother who provided domestic chores for her family?

In one recent case, a woman was stabbed by her boyfriend. The boyfriend, who had served alcohol in a local tavern, and he became intoxicated prior to the time he killed his girlfriend. The mother of the deceased brought a Dram Shop action against the tavern claiming "loss of means of support" to herself and her daughter's four children. At the time of the woman's death, she was unemployed and receiving public aid.

The grandmother contended that as a result of her daughter's death, she and her grandchildren lost the "services and support" previously provided by the deceased. These consisted of preparing meals for the children, washing their clothes, shopping for their food, and helping with their school work. The grandmother further alleged that her daughter had provided valuable services to her on a regular basis by preparing her meals, cleaning her apartment, and nursing her when sick. She argued that the above services were of an occupational nature and therefore fell within the definition of a "loss of means of support" referred to in the Dram Shop Act.

The attorneys for the tavern contended that none of these services provided by the deceased constituted a "loss of means of support" as referred to in the Dram Shop Act. The defendant argued that "means of support" related to a party's wage earning ability and not to a party's performance of domestic chores.

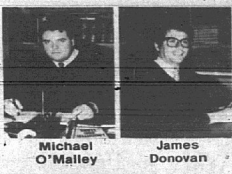

The Court ruled that performance of everyday, domestic chores was not sufficient to maintain a "means of support" action under the Dram Shop Act. Whereas the Court felt that the actions of a mother and helpful daughter were commendable, it was noted that there were no proceeds from her labors which supported either her children or her mother.

Area lawyers to teach public law

Three 20th Judicial Circuit Court associate judges and 10 area attorneys including Granite City attorney Larry Calvo will serve as faculty for the free People's Law School, beginning Wednesday, Jan. 21, at Belleville Area College.

Judges James Donovan, Sheila O'Brien and Michael O'Malley will teach the first legal education session, The Courts and How They Operate.

All the classes are free and will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. in Room 1411 of BAC's Belleville Campus, 2500 Carlyle Road.

The St. Clair County Bar Association proposed the program and provided the faculty at no cost to the college. BAC is providing the space and other support services.

The education series, a pilot project in Illinois, is part of a national effort by the legal community to educate the public about the practice of law and individual rights, privileges and responsibilities under the judicial system, said Edward F. Brennan Jr., coordinator of the People's Law School for the St. Clair County Bar.

Pre-registration for each session is requested to insure an adequate number of class handouts. To register, 235-2700, ext. 323, can be called. The public may attend as many sessions as desired.

Judge Donovan, of Belleville, a graduate of St. Louis University School of Law, is a former prosecutor, public defender and private practitioner.

Judge O'Brien, of Fairview Heights, is a former assistant public defender and private practitioner. She received her law degree from the University of Notre Dame.

Judge O'Malley was appointed to the bench in 1985. He is a former prosecutor, public defender and private practitioner. O'Malley is a graduate of Lewis University College of Law, Glen Ellyn, Ill.

Other law school sessions and instructors include:

Jan. 21 — The Rights of the Accused — Clyde L. Kuehn, Kuehn, of Belleville, served as St. Clair County state's attorney from 1976-80 and is the county's public defender. He is a graduate of the University of Kentucky Law School and practices in Belleville.

Feb. 4 — Injury and Property Damage Suits — Jack Carey and Jeffrey Hammel, Carey, of Belleville, is president of the St. Clair County Bar Association. A graduate of St. Louis University School of Law, Carey is a plaintiff's lawyer.

Hammel, of Belleville, does defense work in the area of injury and property.

Feb. 11 — Family and Domestic Law — Robert Wells, Wells, of Belleville, a graduate of St. Louis University School of Law, is a former president of the St. Clair County Bar Association. Wells also is a member of the Family Counseling Center and Family and Personal Support Center of Greater St. Louis. He practices in Belleville.

Feb. 18 — Professional Negligence — Steve Tillery, Tillery, of Belleville, is a graduate of St. Louis University School of Law. He has served as adjunct professor of law there since 1977 and is co-director of the Advanced Trial Advocacy Program. He is in private practice in Belleville.

Feb. 25 — Workmen's Compensation and Social Security — Larry Calvo and Jack Versteegh — Larry Calvo, of Granite City, is a graduate of the John Marshall Law School in Chicago. His practice covers personal injury, labor law, and workers' compensation.

Versteegh, of Belleville, is a graduate of the University of Illinois College of Law. His memberships include the National Organization of Social Security Claimants' Representatives. He practices in Belleville.

March 4 — Wills, Estates, Probate and Taxation — Lawrence Waldman.

Waldman, a graduate of Washington University School of Law, is a lecturer at Meramec Community College in St. Louis on estate planning. He practices in St. Louis and East St. Louis.

March 18 — Real Estate Law — Lowell G. Burger, a graduate of Vanderbilt University Law School, Burger is chairman of the board of Magna Group, Inc. He has been an evening faculty member at BAC for more than 20 years, teaching real estate law.

March 18 — Debt Relief — John Goodwin. Goodwin, a general practitioner in Belleville, is an assistant state's attorney and a commissioner of the St. Clair County Housing Authority. He is a graduate of the St. Louis U. School of Law.

TRENCHFOOT

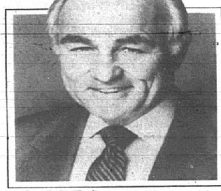

If you notice blistering, redness and breaks in the skin of your feet, it could be a sign of trenchfoot. This condition develops when feet remain cold and damp for most of the day. People who wear running shoes or sneakers in the rain, without waterproof coverings, are prime candidates for the problem. Boots made of synthetic, nonporous material, also can promote trenchfoot by not allowing the feet to "breathe."

As the condition develops, bacterial or fungal infection may set in. Tissues start to decay. Irritation, pain and disability may follow. If you suspect that a trenchfoot problem may be developing, come in for a thorough podiatric evaluation.

Men aged 25 must register for draft

The Selective Service system has announced that men who will reach their 26th birthday in 1987 are reaching a milestone.

Beginning on Jan. 1, 1987, men who were required to register with Selective Service in 1981 will be turning 26. Selective Service does not have the authority to accept registrations after age 26.

By failing to register before turning 26, a young man will have permanently forfeited his right to certain benefits including federal student aid, job training and federal employment.

In addition to these federal benefits, some states require registration for state student aid, entrance to a state-supported college or university, state employment and permission to practice law.

A spokesman said many of the 25-year-olds who have still not registered may be unaware of the requirement or do not understand the importance of the obligation to register.

Some may even have served in the military but failed to register either before entering the armed forces or after leaving active duty. Others may have been institutionalized or incarcerated at the time of their 18th birthday and not realized that they were required to register if released prior to age 26.

For those men born in 1961 who have registered, 1987 also marks the year that ends their eligibility for selection for induction under present law, should there be a return to the draft.

Over 17 million men, age 18 through 25, have registered with Selective Service since registration was reinstituted in 1980. These men comprise over 97 percent of those required to register.

Men age 18 to 25 who have not yet registered still have a chance to avoid risk of prosecution and loss of benefits by registering promptly at any post office.

Failure to register is a felony punishable by a fine of up to $250,000, up to five years in prison, or both.

Have we made progress? — Hai

Granite City isn't pretty. Remarks attributed by Sumico Yamana to some of the 15 Japanese manufacturers who toured the city in November hurt.

They said our city is dirty. They are correct, but we hope someone told them that they saw a city coming up, not going down.

They saw the industrial part of our city. It's hard to make a judgment on that basis. We've yet to see a steel mill in Better Homes & Gardens.

Granite City Steel and others have made strides in making this city more attractive. Our major industries deserve appreciation for being good corporate citizens.

The city and chamber have contributed time and money to clean-up programs. They want our streets and yards clean. They, too, deserve praise.

Members of the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society are working to bring the original beauty back to older homes. Good for them.

In the subdivisions and on most side streets, the houses are as clean and attractive as any found anywhere in the country. Almost everyone in town has a part to play in making this city attractive and most are doing a good job of fulfilling their obligation.

Considering the financial slams this city underwent not so long ago when there were massive layoffs at A.O. Smith and American Steel, and remembering that this city worked itself out of debt, we've held our own admirably and we're coming back.

Granite City has good reason to be proud of the way this city looks because it's the best it could be right now and it's getting better. We've no reason to hang our heads. We're trying, and that's what really matters. Let any visitor come back in a few years and they'll see what determined people can do.

Granite City is not scrubbed white and our Japanese friends may be unaware of the progress we've made, but we have made progress and the effort continues.

The people want this city to be known, as Mayor Von Dee Cruse once put it, as "that clean little steel town."

WPA met a big need, may again

Hundreds of families in Granite City and environs have vivid memories of the WPA. The Depression-era Works Progress Administration provided jobs for those having trouble putting food on their tables. The pay was minuscule, but far better than nothing.

Thoughts of the '30s are being revived by legislation announced Jan. 13 by U.S. Sen. Paul Simon, who once represented Granite City in the Illinois legislature.

His plan for guaranteed job opportunities would turn a "national liability," unemployment, into a "national resource," he said as the first witness at hearings of the Senate Committee on Labor and Human Resources.

It is said that the Reagan era will live on for decades after the Reagan presidency, due to its expansion of the federal debt; legislators will be inhibited in pushing for bold new ventures to help low-income persons, it is reasoned.

While there will be no new Lyndon Johnson-style "Great Society" spending, Sen. Simon is moving ahead with an employment plan which has a yearly price tag of about $8 billion. The pay to individuals would be minimum wage or 10 percent above welfare or unemployment stipends.

He regards the program as affordable, predicting that much or all of the cost would be offset by savings in welfare and unemployment compensation outlays.

The image of WPA workers leaning on shovels was partly accurate; there were inefficiencies in utilizing the men's energies and talents. But they did accomplish much, such as building many roads and drainage channels in Madison and St. Clair counties.

Simon envisions a wider role for the men, and women, qualifying for 32 hours of work a week. He testified, "Local boards would propose and oversee the projects, which could range from constructing sidewalks to tutoring illiterate adults to creating parks." He also suggested "testing, tutoring and counseling to equip job applicants with skills to improve their chances of finding private-sector jobs."

The Illinois lawmaker, ranked in national polls as a presidential contender, makes a valid point in citing the adverse impact of an individual's inability to find a job. It is directly related to family stability, personal dignity, crime levels and governmental burdens.

The 1930s were difficult, but Granite City families in some ways were better able to cope with poverty then than they are today. Mass transit, including street car service, was available nearly everywhere in the bi-state region. Residential neighborhoods offered more services; one could easily walk to a nearby store for food or other essentials. Nowadays, it is tougher to function without cash flow; the family auto still won't run without gasoline, and it is much more important. Access to a vehicle is truly a necessity, not a luxury.

As the senator said, unemployment takes a devastating toll on families, communities, the economy and national resources. He stresses the value of restoring hope, and of giving those trapped in the poverty cycle a new stake in society. Noting successes in curbing joblessness in several European democracies, he asserts that "a free society can tackle unemployment and win; it is not something beyond our control, like the weather."

We have always found work to be rewarding in itself, not just as a way of obtaining income. We think most, when given the opportunity, would choose a job rather than accept welfare benefits.

For those denied the chance to work due to such factors as layoffs, nearly every aspect of their lives is placed in jeopardy. Some way of meeting this challenge, perhaps the Simon approach, needs to be devised and put into effect.

How do you feel about winter?

What do you like and/or dislike about winter-time in this area?

Ed Peck, Granite City

"It doesn't bother me. It beats the heat of summer."

Joe McDonald, Granite City

"It ain't bad. It was always unpredictable around here anyway. At least for all of my life."

Hattie Lance, Granite City

"Well, I love the snow, if it wouldn't get on the streets. It's beautiful, but treacherous. I'm glad we've got all four seasons, though."

'Glory' deserves to be recalled

If we can wend our way through the maze of cable television schedules, we hope to see late this month or in February "16 Days of Glory." It will be enjoyable, because the 1984 summer Olympics brought some of America's finest hours of all time. The Metro East area was well represented in the games at Los Angeles.

The happy film recollections are timely because many of the athletes soon will return to action at the 1987 world championships in Rome, the 1987 pan-American games in Indianapolis and the 1988 summer Olympics in Seoul, Korea. They include sprinter Carl Lewis, voted Track and Field Athlete of the Year after his four-gold-medal achievement; Edwin Moses, the hurdler unbeaten in 119 contests; Greg Louganis, who recently won the world diving championship in Madrid; and Joan Benoit, victor in the Olympics' first women's marathon.

Not returning is Mary Lou Retton, who retired in September 1986 to concentrate on college and on her efforts to educate children regarding the hazards of drug and alcohol abuse. Imbedded in many memories is her faultless vault, the centerpiece of the United States team's leap to the forefront in gymnastics.

Just 16 at the time, she executed a perfect back somersault with a double twist, earning her a 10 in the final phase of the competition. The camera captures her being coached by Bela Karolyi, formerly the coach for her rival, Romania's Ecaterina Szabo, whom she defeated 79.175 to 79.125.

Although the Olympics constitute a major spectacle involving many thousands of people, the focus is on individuals' preparations, pressures and performance.

Their patriotism and their striving for personal excellence in such a public arena — 19 camera crews shot a million feet of film — resulted in intense, dramatic, triumphant competition worthy of being recorded for viewing by this and many future generations. "16 Days" does precisely that.

Farmer assails BAC hiring selection

To the editor:

The hiring practices at Belleville Area College can only be characterized as appalling. They have again hired a person for an advertised position who is not qualified.

Recently, BAC advertised for a reading/English instructor. The lady who was hired apparently has no experience or training in reading. She is qualified to teach English, but she cannot teach reading until she goes back to college and completes some required courses.

It is even more disturbing to learn that the administration passed over three applicants who are fully qualified and considered by their peers to be excellent teachers. I also find the entire selection process reprehensible, but that deserves another letter.

Unfortunately, such exposure tar-nishes the entire image of BAC. Let me make it clear that the problems at BAC rest squarely on the shoulders of the chancellor and a handful of other people, including some board members.

With the exception of a few lap puppies, BAC has some excellent personnel who are trying to do a good job in spite of the existing environment.

Says Scrooge McDuck theory wrong

To the editor:

Recently, the Disney Company launched an "invasion" of China, airing a half-hour television show on Chinese television starring Donald Duck and Mickey Mouse.

Disney has long-term plans for the world's largest consumer market. It hopes to make and market Disney character merchandise, distribute films and publish books and magazines in China.

There may even be a Chinese version of Disneyland someday, just as there is a Japanese version.

All of this is great news. Disney exports to China will help reduce our trade deficit and pave the way for sale of other U.S. products there. Further, the wholesale array of products offered by Disney can only enhance our country's reputation and influence with the Chinese people.

But there may be one small problem. You see, the Chinese are trying to promote free enterprise in their economy, an initiative that promises to raise the Chinese standard of living and improve China's relations with the West.

But there is one Disney character whose behavior and life style have undermined the credibility of free enterprise in the West, and could do the same in China.

I refer to Donald Duck's Uncle Scrooge, a billionaire business duck, with whom most of us became acquainted through comic books as children.

Uncle Scrooge maintained a huge money bin at his corporate headquarters. Whenever beset by troubles or boredom, he would swim around in it or push big heaps of cash back into his money bin.

Unfortunately, that image of the corporate tycoon and his money bin has become permanently frozen in the minds of millions of Americans, and is reflected in their attitudes toward business to this day.

Thus, whenever government proposes new regulations that cost business billions for compliance, people just shrug their shoulders. So what? All the corporations have to do is back a truck up to the old money bin and shovel out a few tons. Recently, we have seen Congress sock business with a $120 billion tax hike and the public response was a big "ho hum." Just take it from the money bin.

In truth, there are no money bins. Corporate expenses, whether to comply with regulations or pay taxes, are reflected in lower dividends to shareholders, lower pay and benefits to workers, and higher prices for products and services.

It would be difficult to calculate the damage done to this country by the Scrooge McDuck Theory of Economics, but one thing is clear: China is a poor country and can ill-afford such illusions.

If the Chinese are wise, they will welcome Mickey, Minnie, Donald, Daisy, Goofy, Morty, Ferdie, Huey, Dewey and Louie, but will bar Uncle Scrooge at the border.

Q-A on Q-A session

POSSIBLE PANELIST Jennifer Hargrave (left) of Granite City, a junior at Son-Life Christian School, is interviewed by Jann Haskins Blaha, BAC director of marketing. She may participate in a question-and-answer session with CBS law correspondent Fred Graham at 3 p.m. Friday, Jan. 16, at the Belleville Campus of Belleville Area College. The public is invited to the afternoon session as well as a free public lecture at 7:30 p.m.

Amvets Auxiliary donates $500 for war memorial

The Amvets Auxiliary of Post 204 in Madison has donated $500 to the local War Memorial Fund and was sent a letter noting the amount is the largest single contribution to date, president said.

During the January meeting the president led discussions on fund-raising projects for 1987. It was agreed to make pizzas for sale, with proceeds to go to the Meals on Wheels and Project Light. Also, the annual fish fry will be held in April, on Good Friday, with the proceeds to be donated to the John Tracy Clinic for the Deaf.

The auxiliary will also serve dinner for the state Amvets bowling tournament in March. December was an active month for projects and donations to various programs. Monies from the annual Christmas party provided the war memorial gift. Also, a $200 donation for food, soup, coffee and other items was sent to the USO at St. Louis Lambert Airport. Cupcakes and cookies were taken to the airport and given to families of servicemen enroute to new destinations.

Game night planned by Walk-on, Jan. 19

Walk-on (Widows and widowers are learning knowledge of necessities) will host a game night at 6:45 p.m. Monday, Jan. 19, at Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road.

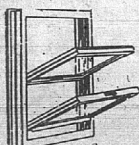

Gifts planned include a dinner for two with transportation in a chauffeur-driven limousine, a free car wash, a free oil change and tickets to the Nameoki Twin Cinema.

Persons planning to attend should contact Liz Neeley at 876-4321 before Friday, Jan. 16, she said. Walk-on is a group started by Thomas Mortuaries Ltd. to help widows and widowers adjust to a new lifestyle and deal with problems brought on by the death of a loved one.

Blair School to honor Dr. King Friday afternoon

Blair School in Madison is celebrating Martin Luther King Day with a commemorative program on Friday, Jan. 16, at 1:30 p.m. in the multipurpose room.

The Rev. Jordan Davis, assistant pastor of St. Luke's African Methodist Episcopal Church in East St. Louis, will speak of Dr. King's work to achieve equality for all people. Dr. King was a key figure in helping to build the foundation for the civil rights movement, the speaker will say.

Dr. King will be honored in song by Freddie Falconer, Bernice Graham and Irene Davis.

The program will honor the late Dr. King, demonstrate support for the continuance of his work, and endorse his non-violent methods of social change. All parents and community members are invited to attend, officials said.

Methodist mission study is continuing

Study of the Heifer Project as the mission support project of area Methodist churches will resume Sunday at Niedringhaus Methodist Church.

Members of Nameoki Methodist will serve as hosts for the 5:30 p.m. covered dish dinner, followed by a School of Missions. Separate classes are held for children and adult groups.

Last Sunday, Trinity Methodist hosted the dinner and Bill Metcalf gave a talk. After his presentation, a film, "The Gift That Multiplies," was shown.

Four honored

Four Granite Citizens were named to the deans' list for academic excellence at Western Illinois University, Macomb.

The students are Gina Lynn Graham, 2136 Myrtle Ave., Barry D. Grote, 2309 Benton St., Jill C. Kinder, 17 Del Rio Ave., and Tami Sanders, 2509 Parkview Drive.

Students are honored for compiling a semester grade-point average of at least 3.5 on a scale of 4.0 as A.

Book Fair at Coolidge

Coolidge Junior High School will be holding a Book Fair Jan. 20 to 27 in the school library.

The fair will be open each day from 7:30 to 8 a.m. and again through the lunch hours. The event will offer students an opportunity to choose books that may not otherwise be available to them.

A wide variety of children's books and books for young adults will be offered.

Price of the books will range from 95 cents to $3.95. The fair will also include book covers, portfolios, calendars, posters and other items.

The fair is a Student Council-sponsored project, chaired by Kathy Chrusciel. Co-chairpersons are Sarah Patton and Scott Portell.

Mr., Mrs. Bettorf name girl Ashley

Mr. and Mrs. Mike (Pam) Bettorf, 124 Troeckler Lane, Mitchell, are announcing the birth of a daughter on Dec. 12 at Deaconess Hospital, St. Louis.

The new arrival has been named Ashley Marie Bettorf and she weighed 6 pounds, 14 ounces. She has a 6-year-old brother, Michael.

Grandparents are Darrell and Nancy Hamilton and Glenn and Joyce Bettorf, all of Granite City.

CHURCHES AND SCHOOL ON PONTON ARE BURGLARIZED

A burglar entered St. Elizabeth School, 2300 Ponton Road, ransacked the principal's office and took $300 from a safe in another location in the building Jan. 8.

An intruder ransacked the secretary's and pastor's offices at Namoki United Methodist Church, 1900 Ponton Road, and took about $100 in currency and coins Jan. 8.

An office area of the Namoki Presbyterian Church, 1700 Ponton Road, was also ransacked Jan. 8. Nothing was taken, and the intruder left behind a flashlight.

DRUG POSSESSION ALLEGED

Shannon T. Hill, 18, of 11 Iris Ave., Timothy W. Nolan, 18, of 4257 Marigold Drive, and Christian Barnes, 18, of 1708 Ferguson Ave. were charged at 8 a.m. Jan. 8 with unlawful possession of cannabis. Police alleged seeing the three men smoking a cannabis cigarette in an auto parked on the rear lot of Granite City High School.

CAR DOOR IS SCRATCHED

Secondo Cappa, 2246 Edison Ave., said Jan. 8 someone used a sharp metal object to scratch a door of his auto, parked on the block of Myrtle Avenue.

INJURED IN 3-CAR MISHAP

Marcia L. Graham, 31, Collinsville, was injured in a three-car mishap at 8:27 a.m. Jan. 8 at Nameoki and Ponton Roads. Graham collided with an auto driven by Anthony B. Smith of 3 Briarcliff Drive. The Smith car's bumper was knocked off and it struck a car driven by Russell F. Barthelmy of 3968 Lake Drive, Ponton Beach.

TRUCK, TRAILER TAKEN

Charles Ellis of Perryville, Mo., told Granite City police Jan. 12 someone took his red 1980 Peterbilt semi-truck, with Missouri license 78821, and an empty Dorsey flat-bed trailer while they were parked at Illinois 162 and Charles Street.

STEREO, SPEAKERS STOLEN

Anna Hanson, 2516 Hemlock Ave., said Jan. 10 a burglar took a stereo and speakers from her auto while it was parked at 20th Street and Madison Avenue. Value of the items is $73.

ARRESTED FOR BATTERY

Vincent Saggio Jr., 48, of 1126a 22nd St., was arrested for battery Jan. 10. He allegedly struck his wife, Vera Saggio of 3117 Maryville Road, in the mouth with his fist. He was released upon posting $102 cash bail.

COURT CONTEMPT ALLEGED

Kelly C. Hodges, 34, of 2904 Washington Ave., was arrested Jan. 11 on a body attachment (warrant) alleging contempt of court. Hodges was released to Madison County authorities.

Two injured in 4-car accident

Four vehicles were involved in a collision on Illinois 162 near Maryville Road about 6 a.m. Jan. 9 in which two persons sustained injuries.

An auto driven east by Rosendo J. Hernandez, 59, of 2637 Cleveland Blvd., began to slide and crossed into the westbound lane, hitting the vehicle of Richard F. Ruette, 50, of Glen Carbon; the Ruette car slid off the roadway and struck the fence at Carter Lumber Co. on 162, authorities said.

Meanwhile, another eastbound car operated by Julius C. Johnson, 46, of 531 Washington Ave., Venice, who was swerving to avoid Hernandez's vehicle, skidded into the westbound lane and struck an auto driven by Margaret A. Carpenter, 26, of 4600 Bruene Ave.

Hernandez sustained an injury and was ticketed for driving too fast for conditions. Also injured was a passenger in Carpenter's car, Chris Carpenter, 7, of 4600 Bruene. All four vehicles were towed from the scene.

Snow plow hits car

A city-owned snow plow, driven by Ronald R. Morlen, 32, of 2818 E. 25th St., collided with an auto driven by Kenneth L. Reigenbutz, 38, of 2804 Maryville Road during a snowstorm at 8 a.m. Jan. 9. Reigenbutz said he was backing out of his driveway when the snow plow struck the right side of his car.

TWO TRUCKS BURGLARIZED

The Long of a Paul Drive told Madison County authorities Jan. 8 a burglar took a radar detector, valued at $169, from his truck. In the same area, the intruder entered another truck, owned by Richard Kurz of Highland, and took a radar detector and assorted tools, valued at $449.

FOOD TAKEN FROM TRAILER

A burglar took an undetermined amount of meat and dairy products Jan. 9 from a semi-trailer parked at Illinois 3 and Interstate 270, Mitchell, Madison County authorities said. The trailer is owned by Roberts Trucking Co. of Wisconsin.

TWO HELD FOR ATTEMPT

Two teenage boys are being held by Madison County authorities after they allegedly tried to take a $200 AM-FM radio Jan. 9 from an auto owned by Chouteau Township Supervisor Morris Miles of Mitchell.

VCR, 2 SPEAKERS TAKEN

Bart Lance, 1415 Niedringhaus Ave., reported Jan. 12 a burglar took a video cassette recorder and two speakers from his home. Value of the items is $300.

Craig S. Towery, 17, of 2829 Pershing Blvd., was transferred Tuesday to the Madison County jail at Edwardsville after a court appearance here on three new charges and two warrants.

Towery was booked on a felony charge of aggravated battery and other charges of resisting arrest and theft, following events at 9:30 p.m. Jan. 9 at Pete and Mary's Tavern, 2809 Lincoln Ave.

The warrants originating through the Collinsville Police Department alleged two counts of unlawful possession of alcohol.

Cash bail of $2,706 was set at the court appearance.

The tavern incident started when a customer told a bartender that an outside cooler door was open and someone appeared to be carrying beer out and covering it with snow.

Towery, who had been playing pool with two other men, was gone when the bartender went outside and found some beer in the snow.

Towery reportedly returned to the tavern and fled when the bartender said he was calling police. Officers converged on the area and foot pursuit of the suspect began.

An officer alleged seeing a man get out of a parked car in the 2200 block of East 25th Street and chased him.

The man escaped when he jumped a 6-foot stockade fence at 25th and Iowa streets.

Seen moments later on a porch in the 2400 block of Iowa, Towery jumped off the porch and allegedly swung his fists at an officer. The patrolman sustained a split finger in the struggle, which ended with Towery's arrest.

Seven cases of beer and a six-pack of beer were found hidden in snow police contended. One case of beer and three six-pack containers are missing, reports said.

Ski-masked youth tries to enter home

William Hawkins, 4015 Stearns Ave., alerted police at 10:40 p.m. Jan. 9 that a youth wearing a ski mask and a blue sweatshirt was trying to pry open his kitchen door.

Footprints in snow leading from the residence's rear door were tracked by an officer to Waterman Avenue, where the imprints became obscured.

After hearing noises from the kitchen, Hawkins said, he opened the curtains and saw the youth at the door. The would-be intruder fled upon seeing the homeowner. The rear door and screen door lock were damaged.

MAN INJURED, ARRESTED

Jeffery W. Claypool, 26, of 1739 Chestnut St., was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center after he was hurt at 4:35 p.m. Jan. 10 at Rock Road and Cayuga Street. His car and an auto driven by Tammy L. Shrum, 21, of 35 Moorland, Mitchell, collided. Shrum's auto was knocked against a car driven by Albert L. Wells, 60, of 1205 Rhodes St. Claypool was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

BATTERY BEING ALLEGED

Ruben Ybarra, 30, of 1733 Poplar St., was arrested for battery Jan. 9 after he went to the home of Donna Bryant, 2900 W. 20th St., allegedly started an argument and then hit her near the left eye with his fist. He was released on $52 bail.

Driver, 23, injured in crash on Venice bridge

VENICE — James L. King Jr., 23, of East St. Louis, suffered several injuries at 11:15 p.m. Tuesday when he lost control of his auto in the divided lanes section near the St. Louis end of the McKinley Bridge.

Taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and admitted, he did not have to undergo surgery, but said he was "not feeling very good" when contacted Wednesday.

King's auto first struck the bridge railing on the right outside lane, and then veered to the left and hit the inside railing.

The extensively damaged vehicle came to a halt facing northeast, making almost a full turn in the process.

The radiator, battery and fan were compressed backward by the impact, Patrolman Dan McKinney said.

King was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and failing to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

Warrants served in Eagle Park shooting

An Eagle Park man was served two warrants Jan. 9 by Madison County authorities in connection with a shooting Jan. 4 at the tavern he owns.

William Earl Blakely, 46, of 203 Carver St., reported to deputies at 2:13 p.m. Friday and was served two warrants alleging unlawful use of a weapon and reckless conduct, authorities said.

Blakely is owner of Blake Lounge, 217 Roosevelt Ave. He allegedly shot John Williams II, 23, of 213 Hare St., outside the tavern at 2:10 a.m. Jan. 4 with a .38-caliber pistol. Williams was struck below the right knee.

ARRESTED FOR BATTERY

Ronald Wiley, 20, of 210 Allen St., Eagle Park, was arrested Jan. 13 by Madison County authorities for battery. He allegedly pushed a door against the face of his father, Jerry Wiley, who suffered a laceration to an eye.

Weekly Health Tip

By Steve Burdge, R. Ph.

OIL NOSE DROPS

Oily nose drops should be avoided. If the oil is inhaled into the lungs while sniffing, it can form a "pocket" in the lung tissue. There is no way for the lung to rid itself of the oily coating and so degeneration of the lung tissue sets in — surgery may finally be the only remedy. Aqueous (water soluble) nose drops avoid this risk and are preferred.

The Latest Technology in Eye Surgery

Now is Close to Home

SURGICAL LASERS ARE NO LONGER A THING OF THE FUTURE.

The most up-to-date surgical lasers available are now treating eye problems close to home, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City.

No need to cross the river for treatment anymore. Ophthalmologists Michael Russell, M.D., Edward Doisy, III, M.D., and Donald Schnellman, M.D. are using the lasers and in treating the after-effects of cataract removal.

Lasers use the energy of light beams to perform the most delicate functions. The laser beam does not cut the outside of the eye, only the inside membrane. There is no bleeding and no entry wound. That means the chances of infections and complications are greatly reduced.

The painless new procedures can be done in 5 to 45 minutes, on an outpatient basis. Don't let needless worry dim your vision. Find out how bright your future can be by calling 798-3013, Physician Referral Service.

IT'S CONVENIENT. IT'S CLOSE TO HOME.

Truck carrying fuel ignites at Illinois 3

Dawson's grandmother, Ethyl Edwards of 1268 N. 33rd St., East St. Louis, saw the accident on a midday news program and said, "Oh, my God, I hope that's not Michael's truck."

Minutes later, she received a call of reassurance from Dawson, who was being treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He was released shortly after he arrived, a spokesperson at the center said.

"I DON'T HAVE any problem getting back in a tractor," said Dawson. "You can have an accident driving anything."

Dawson, who drives for Commercial Cartage of Penton, Mo., said his truck was loaded at Triangle Refinery in south St. Louis County and he was enroute to the St. Louis Area Support Center in Granite City when the accident occurred.

The president of Commercial Cartage, Lawrence Lewis, said Dawson has a "perfect" driving record.

Aldermen hear plan for shopping center want" due to an inadequate selection of stores downtown, he said.

THOUGH UNEMPLOYMENT is high in the area, about 9 percent, Piper said Granite City's stable population would play a part in the success of the shopping center.

Downtown merchants, he said, could benefit from the development.

Further market analysis and a detailed cost analysis of the area will be made, Orbals said. The cost analysis will include demolition, and the cost of property and utility service relocation.

"WE CAN'T afford to guess," he said.

"I'm very excited about the whole thing," said 4th Ward Alderwoman Sharon Perjak. "I know it's going to work this time."

Perjak said she anticipates full council support for the project. The aldermen are expected to grant development rights to Development Control by the end of the month, Orbals said.

"I'm really encouraged," Cruse said.

THE SHOPPING center would be comprised of an 80,000- to 90,000-square-foot discount retail store, a 50,000-square-foot supermarket and 50,000-square-foot comprising 20 to 25 specialty shops, Orbals said. The center could create up to 300 jobs.

The center is estimated to gross about $30 million in sales and produce $1.5 million taxes per year, he said.

Construction cost is estimated at between $10 million and $12 million, Piper said. It could take up to three years to complete the project, Orbals said.

we would overcome that. There is still a tremendous job," he said.

Bush said he is aware of comments that the appearance of the city was a problem in attracting development, but he said the Japanese auto parts visitors only saw a small, industrial section of the city.

He said he did not think the city's appearance was the major obstacle facing the city, but said, "It's among the important things."

Bush didn't know if any of the manufacturers will locate a plant in Granite City and he didn't know the city left, a negative impression.

"There is never a bad one (tour). There are some better than others. I'm looking for their follow-up. There will be some decision made from that group in the coming months," said Bush, who said it was the fourth time the group had visited the city.

Bush said he is involved in a marketing campaign targeting domestic and international auto parts manufacturers. He said a February trip is planned to an auto engineering trade show in Windsor, Canada. He said there are no plans to travel to Japan.

Litchfield Tournament

Trojans take opener, Devils to finals

Madison races past Lancers

By Dave Whaley

LITCHFIELD — See the Trojans run. See the Lancers watch. If it had been a track meet, Madison would have won all the events. As it was, they took the only one that mattered, a 75-46 decision over Raymond (Lincolnwood) in a first round game of the Litchfield Tournament Tuesday.

The Trojans (8-5) moved into the semifinals, where they will face Jerseyville tonight at 8:15. The Panthers surprised the host Purple Panthers of Litchfield, 64-51, in another first round game Tuesday.

If Madison wins, they will play the Venice-Hillsboro winner in the title game at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. If they lose, they would face the loser of that game in the third place game at 8:15 p.m. Friday.

"Our speed bothered them," said Trojan coach Rich Essington, who saw his team win its third in a row. "We were getting out pretty good on the break, and our defense is getting better."

Although Essington said he is still a bit of a defensive liability, center Orlando McCarthy continued to supply potent offensive punch under the basket. McCarthy got 18 points to lead the Trojans, while Otis Ware added 15 and Lamont Johnson had 12.

"McCarthy is scoring some points, but he's been hurting us on defense," Essington said. "Our baseline defense in the 1-3-1 zone is still not what we want it to be."

Madison wasn't perfect, but they were more than good enough to have an easy time against a Lancer team that couldn't come close to matching them in quickness. Ware and Johnson provided much of the early offense as the Trojans jumped out to a 17-6 lead. Then McCarthy took over, hitting three turnaround jump shots from close range to make it a 23-12 game after one quarter.

"They were able to rebound and get the ball upcourt against us, and we don't have the quickness to stay with them," said Lancers coach Bill Danner.

Lincolnwood made only 3 of 11 shots in the second quarter, but kept it fairly close by making five of seven free throws. But Sean Mosby, the Trojans' 5-6 senior guard, kept the fast-break offense rolling, and Madison took a 37-23 lead to the locker room.

ORLANDO MCCARTHY of the Trojans collects two of his team-high 18 points during Madison's 75-46 win over Lincolnwood in a first round game of the Litchfield Tournament Tuesday. Allen Poggonpohi (52) of the Lancers is unable to stop McCarthy. Other potential rebounders are Madison's Steve Sanders (40) and Gary Stanley (24), and Lincolnwood's Dan Clarke (50) and Neil Jordan (31).

"They had some young players out there, including a freshman at one point, but they did a pretty good job on us for a while," said Essington. "We had a couple of chances to blow them out, but they switched their defense around a little."

The Trojans finally put things on ice late in the third quarter, when they ran off 11 straight points to open up a 28-point lead. Mosby, McCarthy and Ware in particular keyed a fast-break offense that was operating as well as the vaunted Venice break.

Gary Stanley hit a jump shot, then Mosby stole the ball for a layup. Carlos Briggs and Mosby then passed to McCarthy for two more quick layups, and Mosby finished the string with a three-point play. "We're controlling the ball better, and I think the players are getting their heads into the game a little more," Essington said. "We're playing them one at a time now, but if we get to Saturday's game, that will be another big test for us."

2nd half spurt sends Venice past 'Toppers

By Dave Whaley

LITCHFIELD — Perhaps it was time for Clinton Harris' Knute Rockne impersonation. Here were the Venice Red Devils, the No. 2-rated Class A school (and No. 1 in one poll), tied with unheralded Hillsboro at halftime in a semifinal game of the Litchfield Tournament. The Devils, according to Harris, had done nothing well in the opening 16 minutes and faced a 28-28 deadlock.

"I did some preaching at halftime," Harris said. "We looked like we were scared in the first half. We weren't doing any of the things we were supposed to do. They did almost everything they were supposed to do in the second half and ended up rolling to a 75-54 win to move them into the tournament championship game at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. They will face the winner of tonight's Madison-Jerseyville game."

The Devils won the game in the third quarter, when they outscored a spunky Litchfield squad 21-8. That included a 17-2 spurt at the beginning of the quarter that put the game away. And much of that damage was done without Jesse Hall in the lineup. Hall led Venice in scoring with 22 points despite missing most of the third quarter because of foul trouble.

So the game fell into the hands of the Devils' "other guys," and they responded. Wilfred Wigfall got 18 points, while co-captain Vince Harris added 12 points and four steals. Sophomore center Daryl Jackson continued his fine play with 11 points, 11 rebounds and five steals.

"Jackson's playing real well for us," said Harris. "He's been our most consistent rebounder all year, and now he's starting to score on his own."

The Devils trailed 8-2 early in the first quarter. But free throw shooting got them back in the game, and they took a 19-16 lead at the end of the quarter. But the sharpshooting of Hillsboro players Todd Russell, David Powell and Eric Hobbins kept things interesting. Hillsboro took a 24-21 lead, but a Jackson slam dunk tied the game, and it was still tied at intermission.

"We weren't in our game at all in the first half," Harris said. "We weren't running, we weren't rebounding, and we weren't playing good defense. When one thing isn't working for you, you have to get something else, but we weren't doing anything."

But a three-point play by Jackson and a Wigfall layup off a Dale Turner steal got things going in the third quarter. Kevin Gardner, who replaced Hall, hit a quick basket. Then two more quick layups by Harris and Wigfall off steals by Turner and Jackson, respectively, were followed by a Turner jump shot and suddenly it was 45-30.

It was 49-36 after three quarters, and with Hall back in the fourth quarter (he had 10 points), the Devils scored 26 points to open up a big lead. They made 12 of 16 shots in the quarter to finish with 30 of 57 (53 percent). Hillsboro, after shooting nearly 50 percent in the first half, was only 12 of 28 in the second half to finish at 45 percent. Venice was 15 of 24 from the free throw line.

"We got in the bonus early, and we stayed in the game with free throws in the first quarter," Harris said. "But then we started missing some later."

"We just have to be ready to play every night. We can't take anyone lightly."

"We took these guys lightly," said Vincent Harris. "We can always get ready when we play the top teams, but it's hard against teams like this. We'll be ready if we play Madison Saturday."

Hobbins was Hillsboro's leading scorer, with 18 points. Powell (12) and Todd Butler (10) were also in double figures.

Matmen face Missouri's best

By Gregg Ochoa

Executive Sports Editor
GRANITE CITY — The Warrior wrestling team prides itself in facing the best competition wherever possible. So, this weekend there will be a whole lot of pride at stake.

Two Missouri schools are on the Warrior mat this week as Granite City returns to action after an 11-day layoff, partially imposed by last weekend's snow. The match with Belleville East has been rescheduled for Thursday, Jan. 22.

Granite City (10-2) will meet Francis Howell (10-1) in a dual meet. The Vikings are the defending large school state champions in Missouri. Francis Howell is currently ranked No. 3 in the Metro East wrestling poll. The Warriors are fifth.

Head coach Walt Whitaker hopes the long layoff will not have that much of an effect on the team. "We lost a lot of match time," Whitaker said. "We altered our practices a little and wrestled a lot of matches instead of working on just technique. Hopefully, that will simulate some of the mat time we Ramblings, odds and ends on the sports scene...

ITEM: There are 10 writing days left until Super Bowl XXI, which means that readers will be forced to digest thousands of words before watching the Giants beat Denver in Pasadena.

The guess here is that Pete Rozelle's annual Roman Rumble will be about as exciting as watching the Christians and the Lions. The Giants, football's most dominant team this year, have been installed as an early eight-point favorite, but the game might not be that close.

New York has more weapons than Denver, whose success revolves around quarterback John Elway. The Giants appear to be a team of destiny.

The only suspense might be when Harry Carson will douse coach Bill Parcells with the Gatorade.

ITEM: Class A basketball fans will get to see a potential state qualifier in Martinsville on Jan. 23 when that team plays at Madison. Martinsville (12-0) is currently rated No. 4 in the Class A poll. The Bluebrecks have been assigned to the Casey Regional and if they id-vance will move to the supersection in Charleston. That "super" has produced eight state champions in Class A.

Lovejoy could be a sleeper team in the area small schools battle. The Wildcats, who have had three coaches in the last three years, are led by Terrell McKire and Corey Miller. They have been assigned to the Freeburg Regional.

ITEM: People all over the area are still buzzing about Venice's win over Missouri state champ Vashon last week.

Everyplace I go, people want to know details about that game, which was highlighted by the St. Louis area television stations. "This win will no doubt do nothing but good things for their program," said Vashon coach

Floyd Irons. "I know when they beat us last year we used that as a building block for the rest of our season. I have a lot of respect for Clint (Harris) and his program. I hope they go far over there."

ITEM: In their recent meeting in San Diego, NCAA athletic directors considered a new rule that would make incoming freshman ineligible to play Division I football or basketball.

However, if approved, the new ruling would probably not go into effect until the 1989 season. Such a measure can not be voted upon until next January. Jud Heathcote and Michigan State no doubt breathed a sigh of relief, since they expect good things from their new recruit, Jesse Hall.

ITEM: Surprisingly, attendance has been down at home basketball games at Granite City. Despite the Warriors' winning record, Memorial Gymnasium has not been filled to capacity.

Granite City hosts East St. Louis in a crucial SWC showdown Friday and a large home crowd could be just the tonic the Warriors need for that extra edge.

Flyers next test for Granite City

By Gregg Ochoa

Executive Sports Editor
GRANITE CITY — The basketball Warriors will be in for their sternest test of the year when they host East St. Louis this Friday.

On the line for Granite City will be first place in the Southwestern Conference. The Warriors are 8-4 (2-0 in SWC play). East Side is 9-3 and 3-0.

Granite City hasn't played in 2½ weeks after the Jan. 9 game with Belleville West was postponed because of the snow. The game has been rescheduled for Feb. 28.

The Flyers played Tuesday night and dismantled Alton 28-62, so the Warriors will be in a dogfight.

"This is the best East Side team I have seen in a long, long time," said Granite City coach Don Deterding. "They can bring 10 guys after you, they're quick and can press like crazy."

East St. Louis has three players averaging in double figures; Kenny Brown (12.1), Roy Terry (11.3) and Victor Appleby (10.2).

"Judging from what I've seen, they are just as good as Alton was last year," Deterding said.

Deterding said the key for the Warriors is not to get into a running game with the Flyers.

"We may run but we won't necessarily gun. We can't just go up the floor and fire 20-footers at will," Deterding said. "If we beat them we are going to have to use our brains."

The Warriors will enter the game with three players averaging in double figures. Jamie Hogan leads the team in scoring with a 19.1 average. Tim Hogan has averaged 17.5 PPG, while Tom Taylor has been scoring at a 15.3 clip.

Deterding is concerned that forward Eric Ryterski may not be at full strength. Ryterski has missed the last two days of practice because of illness.

TAMMY WROTEN and her father, Rich, with the third place trophy she won at the auto show at Cervantes Convention Center earlier this month.

PREPARING THE CAR for the auto show involved lots of hard work, right down to cleaning the fenders.

Trophy at auto show goes to — a girl!

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer
GRANITE CITY — Strike up another one for equal rights. I mean, what could be more male-oriented than an auto show? You know, lots of oily grease monkeys showing off their machines, maybe chewing a little tobacco and downing some suds. That might be a little too much of a stereotype, but you get the picture. But into this space steps a 17-year-old high school senior from Granite City who took third place in the Conservative Hardtop division of the 26th Annual International Championship Auto Show in St. Louis Jan. 3-4.

And — drum roll, please — this 17-year-old happens to be a girl.

Tammy Wroten was driving past a gas station in the summer of 1985 when she saw a car sitting there with a for sale sign. It was a 1968 Chevrolet which she was able to get for $500.

"It wasn't in very good shape," said Tammy. "We had to do all the body work, put in a new interior and a paint job."

"We" is Tammy and her father, Rich. But don't get the idea that Rich is really the mastermind behind the whole thing. It's Tammy's car and she does a lot of the work.

"My dad's really into it," she said. "He's entered cars in shows before and he's helped me a lot."

Tammy estimates she has probably put about $6,500 into the car. "It's got an entirely new motor, plus tires and wheels," she said. "I've had to buy a lot of the stuff, but I've also got some things for Christmas. We found that doing it ourselves is a lot cheaper than having the work done at a body shop."

The auto show was quite an experience, as Tammy was one of only two females who entered a car.

"There was one other lady whose husband had been killed about a year ago," she said. "The guys in his auto club helped her get her car together."

"I found that a lot of people would come up to me and start talking, trying to find out how much I know. The people we competed against are pros. They had neat displays with blinking lights and all that. It's tough to compete against all that money, but we had our own way of doing it."

And Tammy's way was enough.

to take a third place trophy. And there is a possibility she might show it again at shows this summer. But if you ever see her car and feel like you might want it, forget it.

"I'll never sell it," she said. "I had it out last summer and somebody offered me $10,000. But it's not the money. It's all the time I've put into the car. I don't think I'll ever get rid of it."

Any 17-year-old who turns down $10,000 must love that car. And Tammy, who also plays on the Lady Warriors volleyball and soccer teams, said the reaction at school to her hobby has been good. "The guys are interested in what I'm doing, and they think it's pretty neat," she said.

Wrestling

would have gotten."

Granite City's other match this weekend will be a quad meet with Hazelwood Central, Roxana and Wentzville.

When the Warriors return to action, there is a good chance one will see a "lighter" lineup. Several starters have elected to drop a weight class. As many as four starters have decided to wrestle at a lower class.

"That should make us a tougher team, if they don't lose any strength," Whitaker said. "I want to make sure I have wrestlers, not weight cutters, on the team."

Among those dropping down a class are: Brent Davis (to 98), Bill Fitzgerald (to 105), Jon Morgan (to 132) and Dave Knogl (to 145).

Wrestlers are now allowed a two-pound allowance, meaning that a 98-pounder can weigh in at 100 and still be eligible to wrestle. Beginning in February, an additional pound will be given.

"I'm not in favor of a kid losing a lot of weight," Whitaker said. "The key will be if he can hold it off for two or more days, which is what they would have to do if they qualified for the regionals or state."

The revamped Warrior lineup for the Francis Howell meet and the Hazelwood Central Quad looks like this: Davis (98), Fitzgerald (105), Morgan (132) and Knogl (145).

Warriors

strength. Denvers said he will use Kevin Sanders. He has played in just two games all year.

"He has been really working hard and has looked sharp in practice," the coach said.

The Flyers will no doubt be loaded and ready for the Warriors.

The 175-pound class applies only in Missouri. Reynolds, a sophomore, is filling in for Ross Karbarski. He's still out with an injury to his right knee.

Karbarski stopped by practice last week sporting a full-length knee brace. He says he doesn't know when he can return.

especially after what happened this fall during the football season. Granite City wrestled away the conference championship from East Side and the Flyers would like nothing more to return the favor on the basketball court. The Warriors have won or shared the SWC crown the last two years.

Following Friday's game, the Warriors will meet Hazelwood East at St. Louis on Saturday. Directions to East are as follows:

Take Interstate 270 West across the Chain or Rocks Bridge, then exit off Highway 367 North (Alton exit). Follow that road for a very short distance until you come to a stop light. The high school is located on the right (you can see it from the highway). Follow the service road to the entrance.

NOTES: The regional seeding meeting was held Wednesday as coaches met to decide the pairings for the tournament that begins later next month.

● Trojans

The Trojans against Venice for the tournament crown. And Essington admitted Madison's chances should be a little better against the Devils on a neutral court.

"What do they say, the home court can be worth 10 points?" he said. "We'll just have to be ready to challenge them."

The Devils whipped the Trojans 60-56 last month in Venice. But first, Madison must get past Jerseyville. And to win the tournament, they will need Johnson going the whole way instead of fouling out as he did Tuesday. Some of the fouls were of the reaching in variety.

"I talked to him about that," Essington said. "We were getting steals outright in this game (the Trojans committed 22 turnovers). There wasn't that much of a need to be reaching in. It's fouls like that that get you in trouble. But I guess the natural instinct is to go for the ball, especially when you have made some steals."

Madison shot 50 percent (36 of 72), although they were closer to 60 percent before a sloppy fourth quarter. They held Lincolnwood to 35 percent shooting (18 of 52). The Trojans were led in scoring by 6-5 center Allen Poggenpohl, who had 22 points.

The Trojans have won three straight since losing both their games at the Collinsville Holiday Tournament, and Essington sees some good signs.

"We just weren't playing well there," he said of the Collinsville tourney. "There is a lot of inexperience on this team, and I'll take some of the blame for how we struggled earlier. There were some guys not playing hard, and maybe I wasn't getting on them enough. They hadn't been used to somebody getting on their backs for a couple of years."

But I benched some players against Bunker Hill last week, and I think they're coming around a little."

NOTES: The Trojans are shooting for their third title in Litchfield. They took the first one held, in 1968, when John Logan was coaching. They didn't return until 1984, when they won it again in Larry Graham's last year. The Trojans were out of the running in 1985, but took second last year, losing in the final seconds of the title game to Litchfield.

Hunter safety course set here today, Saturday

Area residents will have an opportunity to learn basic principles of safe hunting at a Department of Conservation hunter safety course at the local VFW Hall today and Saturday.

The course will be held from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. tonight and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at the hall, 21st Street and Washington Avenue, Granite City, according to Earl McMillan of the Town & Country Gun Club.

A 1976 state law requires that all hunters under the age of 16 successfully complete the hunter safety course before they can receive their first license. Participants completing the hunter safety course receive a hunter safety certification verifying that they have passed the instruction.

"This will be an excellent opportunity for young hunters who need the course in order to qualify for their first hunting license," McMillan said. "It also can be beneficial for beginning hunters older than 16, even though they do not require the course to be eligible for a license."

The 10-hour course includes instruction in wildlife management, firearms safety, hunter ethics, game identification, first aid, survival techniques and regulations. There is no charge for the course. For more information, contact the coordinating instructor at 876-7823.

New development

Businessses join forces

Several area businesses and institutions, including one from Granite City, have joined together to participate in America On the Move, a national program designed to meet the needs of the relocating public by providing a variety of services to individuals, families and corporations moving to and from the greater St. Louis area.

Nationally, America On the Move is backed by a coalition of companies including Hilton Hotels, Eastern Airlines, USA Today, ADT

Security Systems, the All Points Relocation Service real estate network, IDS Financial Services, Ryder Truck Rental, Move Management by Ryder, and Relocation Publications.

Locally, the members include: Big 4 Chevrolet, Collinsville; Collinsville Chamber of Commerce; Collinsville Convention & Tourism Bureau; Collinsville-Hilton Inn; DeRousse Thompson Ltd., CPAs; Holzinger Real Estate Agency; Leisure World Health Club, Collinsville; St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Granite City; and Ugly Duckling Rent-A-Car of Collinsville. Similar local business networks are being formed across the country to offer special services to newcomers in addition to publishing a relocation guide for those transferring.

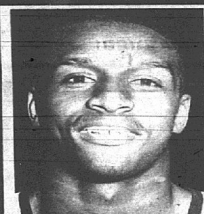

Jay DeRousse, of DeRousse Thompson is chairman of the new local organization. Susan E. Cross of USA Today is co-chairperson. Lori Zeller of Holzinger is secretary, and Myron Thompson of DeRousse Thompson is treasurer. Other members of the executive committee include Doris Kopp of Holzinger, Jody Simpson of Eastern and Jodi Holzinger of the Hilton Inn.

"Beyond the initial decision to accept a relocation in the first place," says Jay DeRousse, "the transferee faces additional choices at every step of the way: what house to buy, where to get a mortgage, what bank to utilize, what schools or day care centers are best, what local suppliers and tradesmen to choose, which physicians, dentists, lawyers and insurance people in the new location."

"Our objective is to give relocating people some direction by offering, through our various companies and professionals, a full complement of services. All of us have a commitment to seeing that they get settled here as quickly and comfortably as possible."

"If you are moving from the area, we also can help by advising America On the Move people at your destination." For additional information, he can be contacted at DeRousse Thompson Ltd. or Susan Cross can be called at USA Today.

BELLEVILLE AREA COLLEGE GRANITE CITY CAMPUS ATHLETE of the WEEK

BASKETBALL

Kirt Robinson was selected once again as the Athlete of the Week for January 5-11 at the Granite City Campus. Kirt was cited for his school record 42 points in one game in a tough 100-92 defeat at the hands of Forest Park. Robinson was 16 out of 29 from the field and 10 of 14 from the free throw line for a total of 42 points.

The 6'2" sophomore, who was also on the dean's list in 1986, plans to transfer to a four-year liberal arts university.

McGuiness-Tempel

Miss Michael Eileen McGuiness, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman McGuiness of San Jose, Calif., and Barry Dean Tempel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle M. Tempel Sr. of Granite City, have announced their engagement and forthcoming marriage.

Miss McGuiness is a graduate of Notre Dame High School in San Jose and received her bachelor of arts degree in speech pathology and audiology from San Jose State University. She is employed by the Wilson, Sonsoni, Goodrich and Rosati Corp. law firm in Palo Alto, Calif.

Tempel is a 1980 graduate of Granite City High School North and served in the Air Force at Sunnyvale Air Force Station in California. He received his associate degree while in the Air Force and is a senior engineer at Martin Marietta Denver Aerospace.

The couple is planning a Feb. 14 wedding at the Presbyterian Church of Sunnyvale.

Ruth Circle meets at church

Ruth Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church met in the church parlor last week. Dorothy Whitmer, leader, opened the meeting with prayer. A new member, Bette Leonasio, was introduced and welcomed.

Kathleen Offt presented the program on the Epiphany and Gladys Potillo presented the lesson, "A Silent Sacrifice," for the least coin. The Woman's Society will be in charge of wedding receptions held at Wesley Hall and Sharon Shaffer and Donna Kagy will serve as co-

New officers for the Woman's Society were installed on Jan. 11.

On Jan. 25, United Methodist Women Sunday will be observed. The women will conduct the service and serve as ushers and greeters.

Kathleen Offit, chairman of the bazaar, thanked the ladies for past work and said workshops are to begin Feb. 3, lasting from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Every Tuesday will be a work day.

New Year's mixed beans will be bagged and offered for sale after Jan. 19 the leader said.

RESEMBLING A STEGOSAURUS, but not quite as big, this 12-foot dinosaur is in a yard at 2333 E. 25th St.

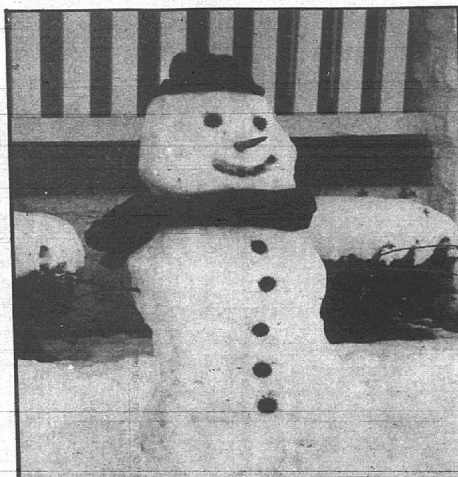

BATTERIES NOT INCLUDED, but the makers of this snow woman did use batteries for its eyes and nose. This creation is at 2210 Hodges Ave.

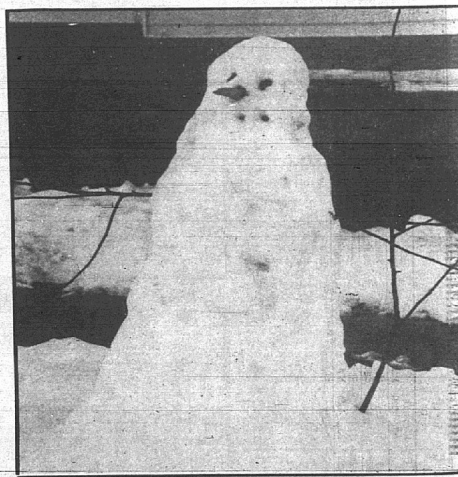

THIS GIANT SNOWMAN, one of the tallest in the area, is at 2824 Birch St., but probably isn't as tall as its 8-foot height Monday when this photo was taken.

AND BABY MAKES FOUR in this family of snow people at 2508 Revere's Route. The baby is at left below the door, complete with a rattle.

A TRADITIONAL SNOWMAN, complete with stock hat and scarf, stands in the front yard at 2314 E. 25th St.

A CARROT NOSE is all that distinguishes this snowman from a snow ghost. It's in a front yard in the 2100 block of State Street.

Snow creatures

The nearly foot of snow which fell on the Quad-City Area Friday gave many residents a chance to show off their talent at creating a wide variety of creatures. These creations are representative of those still surviving Monday morning.

Martin Luther King observances Sunday

By Valerie Evenden

Staff writer

VENICE — The Rev. John H. Rouse, pastor of Mount Zion Missionary Baptist Church in East St. Louis and a trustee of State Community College District 601, will be guest speaker at memorial services honoring slain civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

Services at New Salem Baptist Church, 1349 Klein St., Venice, will conclude a community march led by Mayor Tyrone Echols.

MARCHERS are asked to assemble at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Market Street and Line Alley to walk to the church.

A short route will be taken if inclement weather prevails, the mayor said.

During the services, proclamations will be read from various communities and choral groups will sing, the Rev. John Henry Williams,

New Salem pastor, said.

A MINISTER for the past 32 years, the guest speaker has been the pastor at Mount Zion since 1975 and previously served at churches in Clarksville and East Nashville, Tenn., and Henderson, Ky.

He is president of the New Salem Congress of Christian Education and assistant dean for the Congress of Christian Education of the Illinois Baptist General State Convention, in which he serves as director of scholarship.

Rouse is a trustee of the American Baptist College of the Bible and Theological Seminary in Nashville, Tenn., from where he received degrees in arts and theology.

ACTIVE IN CIVIC affairs, Rouse is president of Mount Zion Human Development Corp. and its subsidiaries — Mount Zion Diversified Industries and Mount Zion Housing Corp.

He is a member of the National Urban League and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

In his travels to 43 states, Canada and Mexico, Rouse has licensed 37 ministers and ordained 32.

HE HOLDS the commission of colonel on the staff of the governor of Kentucky and an honorary doctor of divinity degree from the London Institute of Applied Research.

"He is a dynamic speaker of God and the public is welcome to come and share the birthday of Dr. King with us," the host pastor said.

Dr. King was assassinated on April 4, 1968. He was shot while standing on the balcony of a motel in Memphis, Tenn.

His efforts to gain equality through non-violent means won him the Nobel Peace Prize in 1964.

REV JACK I MADE A FEW CORRECTIONS IN YOUR RETURN BECAUSE OF YOUR ARITHMETIC. TSK-TSK! YOU KEEP CHEATING YOURSELF.

H.B. BLACK INCOME TAX

LET ME ASK YOU, IF THERE WERE TEN SHEEP IN THE FIELD, AND ONE JUMPED OVER THE FENCE, HOW MANY SHEEP WOULD BE LEFT?

SEE WHAT I MEAN? TEN MINUS ONE LEAVES NINE! THERE WOULD BE NINE SHEEP LEFT!

BROTHER, YOU MAY KNOW YOUR ARITHMETIC, BUT YOU SURE DON'T KNOW SHEEP!

St. Stanislaus installs Stan Serwatka

The 1987 installation of officers of St. Stanislaus Lodge 1004 at the Polish Hall was conducted by Father Jim Keefner, chaplain.

Those installed were President Stan Serwatka, Vice President Al Ruesing, Treasurer Nancy Stimac, Financial Secretary Regina Fors, Recording Secretary Dolores Brinker and Sergeant at Arms Vasil Tanase.

Retiring President Edward Fors was presented a gift of appreciation by the officers. Also, President Serwatka presented Father Jim with a donation to St. Mary's Church. After a business meeting, refreshments were served to 25 members.

Bob Reeves, a former Madison resident, from Brownsville, Texas, visited his parents, Don and Sylvia Reeves, and his sister, Donna Reeves, for the holidays. Bob and Donna traveled to Palm Springs, Calif., for a vacation where they met friends returning here for the New Year. He returned to Texas on Jan. 3. Bob is an elementary school teacher in Texas and Donna is a teacher at Harris School, Madison.

Vera Sikora, 801 Grand Ave., Madison, was hostess to the first get-together of the year of her quilting club on Jan. 8. Games were played and a dessert course was served. Members attending were Mary Ann Bunk, Catherine Measki, Catherine Orris, Katie Sueich, Marie Szymek and Mary Venorsky.

Joe and Cathy Gulash are announcing the birth of their second child, a son, born on Dec. 24 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He weighed 8 pounds, 8 ounces, and has been named Eric Joseph. He has a sister, Angela Marie, 2½.

Grandparents are Mike and Mary Gulash and Georgia Wargin, and great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gulash and Mrs. Myrtle Gaudreault.

Rose and Lou Bauza entertained guests at a New Year's party at their home in Madison on Jan. 7. A buffet dinner was served and Christmas carols were sung. Cards and games were played, with prizes awarded.

Attending were a daughter and son-in-law, Virginia and Victor Heitman, son and daughter-in-law, Glena and Eugene Bauza and grandchildren, Summer Marie and Brandon, plus Dolores and Larry Brinker, Father Jim Keefner, Sister Bernadette Meyer, Sister Joan Wolf, Barbara and Al Paskus, Dorothy and Stanley Serwatka, Vasil Tanase, Irene and Andy Besserman, Polly and Ed Tutka, Lucille and Al Mossa, Julie and Frank Fuzessery, Dorothy and Louis Sbabo, Joyce McKinney, Louise and Steve Mikalic and Ted Ostreng.

Joseph Gajowski of Madison celebrated his 10th birthday at Show Biz Pizza in Fairview Heights. Pizza, soda and birthday cake were served.

The honoree received gifts, including an indoor basketball and hoop from Show Biz. Games were played, with prizes awarded.

Attending were his parents, Joe and Mildred Gajowski, Susan Biede, his sister, and friends, Kenny Felty, Tim George and Ryan Hampsey. He is a fourth grade student at St. Mary's and St. Mark's School.

Madison-Venice News

By Kathy Dohal

Brenda Jordan, owner of Brenda's Restaurant, the former Trojan Restaurant, in Madison, was hostess to her employees and friends at a holiday gathering held at Charlie's Restaurant in Granite City.

She announced to the group the reopening and remodeling of her restaurant. She can now seat 130 people, with a private room available for meetings and parties.

On Sunday, Jan. 18, an "all you can eat buffet" will be started along with the regular menu. Plans are being made for a grand opening ribbon-cutting ceremony in the near future. Madison-Venice Rotarians will hold their noon Wednesday luncheon meetings at the restaurant.

Jordan has been the owner for eight years.

Those attending the party were Rhonda Jordan, Glenda Julius, Paul and Marilyn Lunsford, Charlotte Flynn, Wanda and Tom Tindall, Betty Kurtz, Jeff Riggs, Calvin and Dolores Bosworth, Thelma Koler, Sue Hagen, Fran Gann, Bob Holmes and Ron Miller.

A committee meeting for Cub Pack 21, sponsored by the Madison Parents Club, was held on Jan. 10 at the home of Donna and Joe Kosteci. Final plans were made for the pinewood derby to be held on Jan. 22 at the Harris School. Plans were also made for the pack's blue and gold banquet on Feb. 26 at Harris.

A discussion was held on the proposed consolidation of the local Scout Council and the Piassa Bird Council.

Those attending were Ann Bisto, den leader, Emma Bosworth, committee chairman, Sherrie Guardola, den leader, Donna Kosteci, scouting co-ordinator, Court Bosworth, assistant cubmaster, Joe Kosteci, cubmaster, and Ron Luebman.

Madison Senior Citizens held their installation of 1987 officers on Jan. 9 at the Madison Recreation Center. Mildred Shifter, retiring president, was presented a plaque of appreciation for a "job well done." She served as president for two years.

She then installed the following 1987 officers: President Sue Blattner, Vice President Albert Timko, Secretary Mary Gotsman, Treasurer Josephine Gocheff, Trustees George Vasiloff, Steve Barry and Albert Pereda, historian Dorothy Vasiloff and Chaplain Mickey Krusec.

A luncheon was served to 75 people. Games were played and prizes were awarded. Gifts of appreciation were presented to Frediah Green and Josephine Czervinski for outstanding participation in the group's projects.

The 15th annual Russian Christmas and a belated birthday party honoring Leona Voloski were celebrated during the weekend at the Polish Hall in Madison. Leona is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Paul Besserman Sr.

Five Star Club sees travel film

The Five Star Club of Central Bank viewed a slide presentation provided by Rose Brooks of Jackson Tours at the January meeting. The armchair vacation took them on a trip to London, England, Frankfurt, Germany, Switzerland, Austria and other places in Europe, as well as a tour of Washington, D.C., and New York City.

Employee Alford, club coordinator, announced that seniors from American Heritage Bank are now eligible to be members of the Five Star Group. For more information, those interested are to call Jane at 451-6616. Alford said a quarterly newsletter, giving details about upcoming events and tours, will be in the mail soon.

Members celebrating January birthdays were Genevieve McClure, Marie Verbyck, Dorothy Hoedebeck, Andrew Simurda, Katherine Hinkle, Kathryn Todoroff and John Harshany. Each one received a Five Star zippered bag.

Prizes were won by Rose Macek, Clara Tanase, Alice Kruse, Marie Verbyck, Rose Mary Breyer, Vicki Elmore, Ann Sporic and Geraldine Wagner.
